

Own This City

Great walks

Post-T-Day stroll

Work off Thanksgiving gluttony while you celebrate the holiday season.

By Josh Frank

Put those shoes back on and resume your trek, heading northwest to the Time Warner Center (10 Columbus Circle at Broadway, 212-823-6300). You can't see many celestial lights in the New York City sky, but here you can stare at 12 colorfully illuminated, 14-foot-wide, 1,000-pound LED-lit stars hanging from the glass ceiling from the "Holiday Under the Stars" show; they were designed by Matthew Schwam of Holiday Image, a Brooklyn company that specializes in seasonal displays.