Jeff Brodsky, Stephen Norman join board of CSH

In a continuing effort to realize its vision of using supportive housing to end and prevent homelessness, CSH has elected two new members to its Board of Directors:

Jeffrey Brodsky, president of Related Management and executive vice president of Related Affordable, and Stephen Norman, executive director of the King County Housing Authority in Washington State.

"With these new Board Members, CSH gains valuable expertise and experience in the public and private housing markets, both of which are integral to the advancement of innovation in supportive housing," said Deborah De Santis, president and CEO of CSH.

"With their insights, we look forward to realizing the full potential of supportive housing as an effective housing and service solution for our most vulnerable citizens. It is a pleasure to welcome them to CSH."

Brodsky joined the Related Companies in 1982. Related Management provides direct and asset management of a diversified portfolio of 170 of Related's real estate assets spanning the property-type spectrum from super-luxury urban high-rise to rural garden affordable properties, as well as office buildings, mixed-income, retail and mixed-use assets.

Brodsky is a member of the Residential Committee of the Real Estate Board of New York, and is on the Board of Directors of the National Housing Conference, the National Leased Housing Association and the Realty Advisory Board of NY.

He is a member of the Advisory Board to the New York University Furman Institute for Affordable Housing Policy, the Homeland Security Task Force, the Sustainability Committee of the Real Estate Roundtable and Fannie Mae's Green Rental Housing Task Force; and is the Chairman of Urban Green Council, the US Green Building Council NY Chapter.

Norman is executive director of the King County Housing Authority, which owns or controls 8,500 units of housing, administers 10,000 Section 8 vouchers, provides home repair and weatherization assistance for low-income homeowners, and is an active developer of affordable housing.

He has an extensive background in the design, development and operation of service-enriched and affordable housing and served previously as an Assistant Housing Commissioner for the City of New York.
